Captured documents indicate that 102 Alpha and 220 Beta variants indicate that approximately 20% of these ships were built at the Dominion War. 60 Alphas and 60 Betas were in 108 Gamma and 108 Delta variants were destroyed. 12 of these vessels were Alphas, 7 Betas crossed the Alpha-Quadra border which participated in the war. Fragmented reports indicate that 5 Beta versions were converted to Delta version at the Monac shipyards before it's destruction. 1 Beta and 2 Delta variants undergoing upgrade and repairs respectively were lost with the destruction of the shipyard. 3 more Delta versions were destroyed during the war. Unconfirmed reports indicate that 4 Beta and 8 Delta variants are still in operation. Indicator are that all of these vessels have returned to the Gamma quadrant.

Intelligence reports indicate that over 200 and as many as 250 Beta models are still in service. Combined information from Klingon, Federation and Romulan sources confirm that 7 Beta models have been destroyed. 7 more Beta versions are believed to have been scrapped. To date, reports indicate that 30 Alpha models have been destroyed in the Gamma Quadrant. 20 or more have been scrapped. Only 5 of these ships remain in the Alpha quadrants.

Less than 200 Delta variants are known to have crossed into the Alpha Quadrant, however, 80 or more Epsilon variants were produced in Cardassian shipyards after open hostilities commenced. Information indicates that 36 Alphas, 40 Betas, 33 Deltas and 64 Epsilons have been destroyed. 3 Alphas, 6 Betas, 6 Deltas and 6 Epsilons have been captured. 12 Alphas, 3 Betas, 9 Deltas and 7 Epsilons are listed as missing. 17 Alphas, 10 Betas, 15 Deltas and 53 Epsilons have been scrapped. It is believed that 570 or more Deltas and over 200 Epsilons are still in active service in the Gamma Quadrant. The Epsilon class appears to still be in production but as unknown numbers.

While none of these vessels are known to have remained in the Alpha Quadrant, intelligence reports indicate that 4 Betas, 16 Deltas and as many as 92 Epsilons remain in active service. Captured information indicates that 6 Betas, 8 Deltas and 7 Epsilons have been destroyed. 1 Epsilon was captured by the Romulans during the war, although at a significant cost. 1 Beta apparently went missing in the Gamma Quadrant. 1 Alpha, 2 Beta, 4 Delta and 5 Epsilons have been scrapped.

Less than 100 of these ships are known to have crossed into the Alpha Quadrant. However, these vessels appear to have been quite prevalent in Dominion controlled space within the Gamma Quadrant. Captured documents indicate that the Extinguisher class is no longer in production; however, over 600 of these ships are known to have been built. 16 Alphas, 3 Betas, 7 Deltas, 13 Epsilons and 69 Gammas have been destroyed. 6 Alphas, 1 Delta, 2 Epsilons and 11 Gammas have been captured. 4 Alphas, 3 Deltas, 1 Epsilon and 4 Gammas are listed as missing. 7 Alphas, 2 Betas, 2 Deltas, 11 Epsilons and 49 Gammas have been scrapped (including 30 that were damaged beyond repair in the attack on the Monac shipyards.) Unconfirmed reports indicate that 4 or more of these ships remain in the Alpha Quadrant.

Estimates show that over 100 Betas and 200 or more Deltas crossed into the Alpha Quadrant. Early analysis of captured documents initially indicated that 201 Alphas, 242 Betas and 139 Deltas were in active service. These number have been called into question with a possible Changeling having sabotaged the primary and follow-up reports on these ships. If still credible, the reports show 63 Alphas, 24 Betas and 54 Deltas have been destroyed. 17 Alphas, 6 Betas and 4 Deltas are listed as captured. 11 Alphas, 9 Betas and 4 Deltas are listed as missing. 18 Alphas, 19 Betas and 43 Deltas have been scrapped.

The Slayer class was another Jem'Hadar vessel that saw limited use in the Alpha Quadrant during the Dominion War. None the less, over 300 of these raiders did cross into the Alpha Quadrant before the closure of the Wormhole. Estimated numbers from captured documents indicate that 172 Alphas, 168 Betas and 266 Deltas are still in service. 39 Alphas, 33 Betas and 71 Deltas have been destroyed. 6 Alphas, 2 Betas and 4 Deltas have been captured. 9 Alphas, 2 Betas and 13 Deltas are listed as missing, although none apparently have gone missing in the Alphas Quadrant. 3 Alphas, 9 Betas and 23 Deltas have been scrapped. Star Fleet Intelligence is tracking 17 of these vessels, although none have as of yet been involved in hostile activities against Alliance forces. All remaining vessels that are known to have crossed into the Alpha Quadrant are accounted for.

The Terminator was one of the most common heavy vessels to be encountered by the Klingons and Federation during the Dominion War. It was also one of the few warships produced on the Alpha Quadrant side to the wormhole. Over 200 of these ships were produced between the Alpha and Gamma quadrant. Only a handful of Alpha variants were encountered during the conflict, all of which came through the wormhole early in the conflict; however, nearly 100 Beta variants were identified, with well over half of those having been built in Cardassian shipyards. To date, 5 Alphas and 35 Betas have been destroyed. 2 Alphas and 5 Betas have been captured. Indications are that 2 Alphas and 4 Betas are listed as missing. 1 Alpha and 28 Betas were scrapped. Star Fleet is currently aware of 10 Betas still in the Alpha quadrant, apparently on exploration duty.

VIRULENT CLASS IX DESTROYER

Notes:

Known Sphere Of Operation: Dominion-wide use

Data Reliability: B for all models

Major Data Source: Cardassian Sector Intelligence

The Virulent class is believed to be the second most produced vessel to come from the Dominion. Reports on the Alpha and Beta models are less concrete, however captured information show that over 1,000 and as many as 1,200 of these ships have been produced. Current estimates are that 167 Delta and 737 Epsilon variants are still in active use, although this number may be higher as production numbers in Dominion controlled space in the Gamma Quadrant are considered only moderately accurate. 10 Epsilons are believed to be used as training vessels. Records indicate that 16 Alphas, 19 Betas, 24 Gammas, 32 Deltas and 81 Epsilons have been destroyed, well over half being lost during the Dominion War. 4 Epsilons were captured during the war. 3 Gamma, 1 Delta and 5 Epsilon variants are listed as missing. 4 Alphas, 11 Betas, 6 Gammas, 7 Deltas and 33 Epsilons have been scrapped. Although nearly all of these ships eventually returned to the Gamma Quadrant, three Epsilons are known to be operating near Ferengi space as raiders. It is unknown if these ships are still crewed by Jem'Hadar or others.
