NOTES:

Known Sphere Of Operation: Romulan-Klingon border; Federation border

Data Reliability: D

Major Data Source: Romulan Sector Intelligence

The Intrepid Vengeance began its career along the Federation border, supporting a number of bases and outposts near the Triangle/Federation border. The Vengeance conducted several raid guised as an IKS vessel, as well as attacking Orion interest in the area.

In 2284, the Vengeance was refit with increased firepower and improved shields and returned to operations within the Triangle. In 2343, the ship was refit and transferred to the Romulan-Klingon border shortly before the increase in hostilities between the two powers.

In 2346, the Vengeance was part of an attack wing that struck a Klingon listening post. Although the Vengeance survived the attack, she was badly damaged and her crew evacuated. The ship self-destructed shortly there after.
