NOTES:

Known Sphere Of Operation: Klingon Border

Data Reliability: D

Major Data Source: Romulan Sector Intelligence

Like most Bird of Prey designs captured by the Romulans, the Storm or Reprisal was considered one of the few truly vengeful designs specifically fielded to attack Klingon targets as a matter of pride. Like the V-24, the Reprisal was used as an attack cruiser, targeting specific enemy ships along the mutual border.

Like other D-12's captured and refurbished, the Reprisal often utilized non-standard Romulan tactics and continued her attack until her target was completely annihilated.

Despite her extensive capabilities, the Reprisal was eventually damaged beyond repair in 2344. She was officially struck from the Romulan navy later that year.
